Floods Alter Hope For Bottomlands' Crop Production

Damage Acute In Pastures, Crops

By Lois Sapp

Milam County crop and pastures in the bottom land are taking a hard knock as flood waters continue to take its toll.

About 40,000 to 60,000 acres of land are under water from the 4 to 6 inches of rain that hit the area over a four day period, according to Wayne Mann, head of the Cameron Soil Conservation office said.

Cotton, maize, corn, watermelon, tomatoes and other small crops, along with much pasture land have suffered acute damage. The exact amount of damages county-wide will not be able to be determined until after the water recedes.

J. D. Moore, county agent, said that the amount of loss would depend on how fast the water gets off the crops, how much mud and silt is left on the plants and how soon a shower might come to wash the plants off.

"It is possible that some of the crops can be saved," Moore said.

Mann said the farmers in Elm Creek may be able to replant cotton fields but that it is too late for corn.

Many farmers in that area have been trying to get a watershed project started for many years but have been unsuccessful in getting a bond passed," Mann noted. "The four floods this year will probably renew their interest."

FARMERS REPORT

Area stockmen and farmers have reported their rainfall count which varies from 3 to 6 inches.

In Northeast Milam, Leeman Wilson recorded 4 inches while a section nearby belonging to Marvin Jueck had 5.2 inches.

Jueck said the rain broke terraces, ruined cotton and oats. He estimated that his 135 acres of bottom land had a loss of approximately $2,000.

Anton Moras reported 5.2 inches of rain in North Elm area with 4 inches falling in a two-hour span.

In Burlington Herman Dorner measured 4.5 inches of rain while Roy Hensley in the Pettibone area measured 3.5 inches.

Silver City had 5.2 inches, according to Pat Delahanty and Frank Schiller measured 3.55 in the far north part of the county.

Swinging to the west part of Milam, Wilburn Beckhusen reported 4 inches in the Buckholts area. In Yarrleton Buster Griffin noted 4.5 inches of rain.

Griffin said the creek came out fast and all small grain in the bottom was ruined and fences down. Roads were closed to Buckholts.

SOUTH AREA

In south Milam, Anton Anderle said six inches of rain fell, but no livestock loss and little crop damage was noted. He said most of that area surrounding his land is pasture land.

In the Hanover area, David Hause measured 5 inches of rain. Hause said the major damage was dealt to tomatoes, watermelons and corn. He said it was too late to replant so most of the crop was considered lost.

The Clarkson community had hail Monday but no damage was reported to the community. However, severe crop damage was noted. Five inches of rain was also recorded.

RIVERS, CREEKS STILL OUT IN WORST SINCE '57

Flood waters continued to plague low lands in the Milam County area Wednesday as rivers and creeks began to slowly subside after four days of rains.

City Water Supt. Alvin Heff said that Little River had dropped to 35 feet Wednesday after cresting at 39 feet Tuesday morning. Along with Little River, Elm Creek, Pond Creek, Brushy Creek and tributaries went out of their banks to cover a span of 40,000 to 60,000 acres of Milam County land.

The flooded areas were said to be the worst since May of 1957 when Little River rose to 39.7 ft.

Flood waters caused the closing of FM roads 436, 998, 437 and 2269 in the county. Highway Patrolman Leroy Broadus said the roads were still closed late Tuesday.

The four-day rainfall, Sunday through Wednesday a.m. totaled 4.19 inches, according to Heff. This brought the total rainfall for the year to 26.19 inches.

Rainfall recorded was: Sunday, 1.11 inch Monday, 2.71 Tuesday, .27 and Wednesday, 10 inch.

Little River, which has a usual width of about 30 feet, covered a span of two miles from the Little River bridge toward the Cameron City limits.

In the face of the turbulent weather, Cameron schools were alerted Tuesday morning for possible tornadoes. The school was notified after a tornado touched down about 12 miles northeast of Taylor and was said to have been headed toward Cameron. However, no reports of seeing the tornado in this area were heard. No major damage was reported in the Taylor area.

Aid Available To Flooded Areas In Milam - Burleson

Farmers and ranchers in Milam and Burleson Counties that have been hard hit by the recent floods can still have emergency loans, according to Henry N. Ivey, County Supervisor for Farmers Home Administration.

Emergency loans are available to repair flood damaged crop land, fences, terraces or pastures and replace productive livestock that have been lost due to the flood.

The plans are available only to individuals who cannot secure credit from private sources at rates and terms that they can be expected to meet. FHA emergency loans may be had at 3 percent interest and are repayable in one year, Ivey said.

Jail Break, Theft Charges Filed Against Escapees

Two charges of escaping from jail and two charges for car theft have been filed against four of the five men who escaped from the Milam County jail May 9.

County Attorney John B. Henderson Jr. said the four charges were filed in Justice of Peace Jess Brock's court Friday.

Clyde Wallace, 24, of Huntsville and Frank Bartfield, 22, of Cameron have been charged with escaping from jail. At the time of the jailbreak they had been brought to Cameron on bench warrants from the state prison in Huntsville. They had both been sentenced to five year prison terms on two burglary charges two days before the escape. They were captured by Vaughn Jenness on his farm south of Cameron last Tuesday.

William D. Williams, 24, of Houston and Sammy Morgan, 29, of Cameron have been charged with car theft, Henderson said. The two were captured last week in an automobile belonging to Herman Hoelscher of Cameron when he was arrested.

No additional charges have been filed, Henderson said.

A fifth escapee, Johnny Delasco, 17, of Waco was arrested by Waco authorities Wednesday.

All five men have been returned to the Milam County Jail.

Your Future And Mine....

Town Meet To Talk Payrolls

A first-order program to study first-order community needs and plans is scheduled in a June 8 Town Meeting at Milam District Courtroom.

A Cameron Industrial Foundation will be the main topic of discussion as the Cameron Chamber's first Town Meeting attracts representatives of Cameron City Council, School Board, County Commission and other leaders throughout the community from dozens of organizations, civic clubs and churches.

R. W. Wells, chairman of the Town Meeting, reports that invitations, as well as are going out to representatives of industrial departments of utility companies, freight lines, railroads serving Cameron and the Texas Industrial Commission.

TIC MAN ACCEPTS

Already accepting for the TIC staff is James J. Kelley of Austin, assistant executive director of the prize-winning state industrial agency.

Wells emphasizes the meeting will be an open forum for recommendations and discussion from the floor after four speakers complete brief talks on need for industry, community attitude, the Caldwell success story, plans projected by the City of Cameron, and the Cameron Independent School District.

The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 8. Wells emphasized that this meeting could well be a "Red letter" day in the history of the Cameron community.

Purpose of the meeting is to bring together the various leaders and groups in Cameron who share a responsibility in the future of Cameron.

Wells will present introductory remarks of the purpose the meetings serves in meeting the basic growth needs of Cameron.

CITY, SCHOOL FUTURES

Mayor Bassel Wilson and a spokesman for the Cameron School Board are being asked to give brief talks on the future plans in the City and School District.

And a spokesman from Caldwell, which recently opened a new aluminum fabricating plant, will discuss the community development program underway in Caldwell.

well for several years. And a talk on attitude will be given by Gene Smitherman.

Wells emphasized the value of the Forum idea of questions and remarks from the floor following scheduled talks. He said it will give all interests an opportunity to voice their views before an industrial development program begins.

Trustees Adopt Integration Plan

The Cameron School Board has adopted the Freedom of Choice Plan for desegregation of the Cameron Schools in accordance with the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

The Freedom of Choice plan, as approved by the Cameron School Board last Thursday, calls for the desegregation of the Cameron Schools over a three-year period effective four grades each year.

Board President C. R. Law said the trustees felt that the Freedom of Choice plan offers the best workable solution towards desegregation.

Under this plan, students entering the first, fifth, ninth and 12th grades for the 1965-66 school year may attend the school of their choice in the Cameron Independent School District.

In the school year 1965-67 the second, sixth, tenth and eleventh grades will be included in the Freedom of Choice plan and in 1967-68 the third, fourth, seventh and eighth grades will be added.

Each year thereafter, any student may attend any school of their choice. A choice may be made each year and if a student changes his mind, he can change schools the following year.

The choice of school will be designated by the signing of a written statement by the parents or guardian and the student. In the case of over-crowding, preference is given to children living nearest to school regardless of race, color or national origin.

There are presently 1,094 white students and 417 colored students in the Cameron school system.

The Plan resulted from recent announcements by the U.S. office of Education that non-integrated public school districts which want federal aid for the 1965-66 school year must show that they have definite plans for completing desegregation by the fall of 1967.

The Cameron Schools transportation system will be fully desegregated in 1965.

City Councilmen accepted bids on materials for the sewer extension project in south Cameron at their regular meeting Tuesday. Cameron Lumber Company and Alamo Machine Supply Co. of Waco, were low bidders on the sewer extension materials. City Secretary Buddy Fuller said work is expected to begin as soon as material arrives.

In a short meeting, the council also approved the roofing of the city park pavilion and approved the equalization report.

gated in 1965. All present bus routes have been eliminated and new ones will be formed so that there will be no duplication and no two buses will travel over the same route unless the number of students merit additional buses.

The Plan said that no school will allow discrimination of students in any extra-curricular activities and all students will be allowed to participate in all extra-curricular activities sponsored by the school for which they are eligible.

The school lunch program will also be desegregated and all children will be served equally.

Assignment of teachers and all personnel employed by the school district will be made on the basis of merit and without regard for race, color or national origin.

A step will be made in this direction by combined faculty meetings, curriculum study groups and in-service training programs, the plan stated.

Schiller Bills Move In Austin

COMBINE COUNTIES

A second bill taking Robertson County out of the 85th Judicial District and placing it in the 20th District along with Milam County is awaiting the governor's signature.

The bill was sponsored in the House by Rep. Schiller and passed in a special session devoted to uncontested and local bills. This would leave only Brazos County in the 85th District.

Judge William Wallace of the 20th District said Tuesday that he had been notified of the passing of the bill by Rep. Schiller.

If the governor signs the bill and it becomes law, it will go into effect Sept. 1, 1965, Judge Wallace said. The combined population of the 20th District would then be 38,000. Brazos County's population is 35,000.

A $700,000 fund for the purpose has been accumulated from unclaimed refunds due on taxes paid for gasoline not used for vehicles which do not travel on highways.

The bill would especially benefit smaller communities because the loans to be made will be relatively small, Schiller noted.

Brown To Address Rural Leadership

Leaders from a dozen Milam communities will meet 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 25, at Minerva Community Center to hear Reagan Brown, sociologist with Texas A&M University, discuss Texas Community Improvement programs.

Invitations have gone out to Minerva, hosting the gathering, to leaders in Tracy, Milano, Gause, San Gabriel, Davilla, Hanover, Marlow, Ben Arnold, Burlington and Baileyville.

J. D. Moore, Milam county agent, said invitations also have been extended to County Judge Don G. Humble, Coleman Duncan, Bob Wells, A. W. McCullin, Robert Clark, Frank M. Luecke, Henry Ivey, all of Cameron, and Bill Cooke of Rockdale.

Moore, assistant county agent Charles Henson and HID agent Anna Marie Ramke, will represent the county agent's office in Cameron.

Texas Community programs are jointly sponsored by electric utilities in Texas and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Henry Siebman, district manager of Texas Power & Light Co., Cameron, is sponsoring the meal that precedes Brown's talk.

Brown has travelled throughout Texas in recent years, urging Texas rural communities to organize and modernize. He has addressed numerous individual groups in Milam communities and has addressed civic groups in both Rockdale and Cameron.

A number of rural Milam communities have won prizes in the annual contests sponsored in the Texas Community Improvement program.

Moore emphasized the "aims and purposes of this type program is to afford families an opportunity to plan and work together in an organized, co-operative manner to solve individual and community problems."

He pointed out the program "serves as a means through which plans can be made and work carried on with the greatest number of families in the county."

Dan Schroeder and "Wimpy" McCoy, district representatives for TP&L, have made community contacts and will assist in the program.

Zeigler Resigns As School Head

Cameron School Supt. Charles Zeigler has resigned his position to assume a similar position in the Cleveland school system.

School trustees accepted his resignation Thursday. Applications are now being accepted by the board to fill the vacancy created by his resignation.

Zeigler has been superintendent of the Cameron Schools for the past four years. He came to Cameron in 1960 as assistant superintendent. Prior to coming to Cameron he was superintendent in the Oglesby school. He also previously taught and served as principal at Levitz and Moran.

A native of Gatesville, he received his bachelor's and masters degrees from Texas A&M University. Mrs. Zeigler, special education instructor, has also resigned and does not anticipate teaching in the Cleveland school system.

Zeigler's resignation becomes effective June 30 and he plans to be in Cleveland to assume his new duties the first of July.

Cleveland is a 3-A school with an enrollment of about 2700 students. The superintendent said he thought the move would be good for him and his family although he was sorry to be leaving Cameron.

Mr. and Mrs. Zeigler have two children, Suzanne 10 and John 7.

Nell Ross Drilling At 14,075 Feet

The Shell Oil Company No. 1 Nell Ross, eastern Milam County deep wildcat, was drilling at 14,075 feet on Monday and making hole at a faster pace than during recent weeks. It was drilling at 13,690 feet on last Friday.

The Ross, oilfield sources believe, is nearing its objective, the Smackover. Shell's No. 1 Adoue Estate, which was drilled last year about a mile south of the Ross, was expected to encounter the Smackover at approximately 14,500 feet. The Adoue Estate, however, drilled from the Buckner lime directly into salt. It was abandoned at 14,457 feet when drill collars and bit were lost in the hole and a fishing attempt and sidetracking failed.

Sources believe the Ross probably is drilling in the Buckner, but this cannot be confirmed since Shell is releasing no information about the wildcat.

In the Rice Schoolhouse area the Brown & Smith Oil Company's No. 1 Henry Pattillo was at 850 feet and the drilling crew was engaged in fishing out drill collars and drill stem lost in the hole. Rains and flooding conditions were hampering the operation.

The Pattillo is permitted to 1,100 feet or the Navarro. It was cored last week with reportedly a good oil show. The wildcat is located about 1,000 feet from an old gas well drilled about ten years ago which produced 250,000 cubic feet a day from 980 feet. The new Brown and Smith wildcat is being drilled in an attempt to develop shallow gas production here in Milam County.

School Pays Tribute To Benefactors On 'Yoe Day'

By Lois Sapp

Yoe High students and faculty were joined by representatives from other schools Thursday as they observed the traditional memorial services in honor of their benefactors, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Yoe.

A caravan made their way from the high school to Oak Hill Cemetery. Taps were sounded over the graves that had been decorated with an array of flowers by school children (see pic).

During the ceremony, the Yoe's Will and Testament was read and a prayer of thanks offered.

Beside the graves of Mr. and Mrs. Yoe is a smaller grave, that of a little girl who died at the age of five. This little girl, who was the only child the Yoes had, was the inspiration that spurred the Yoe's on to build a lasting memorial.

"They wanted to do something to serve the children of Cameron, so they gave the property and school to Cameron," Miss Ada Margart Smith, Yoe teacher said.

The Yoes each promised the other that their plans would become a reality one day. Three years following the death of C. H. Yoe, his wife saw the dream come true and Yoe High was dedicated.

Mrs. Carrie Yoe lived to see the first class attend Yoe High School. She watched the first memorial procession from her window as children and faculty marched past her home. Each child carried a bouquet of flowers to place on the grave of Mr. Yoe. Mrs. Yoe died in 1922.

A simple man, Mr. Yoe came to the United States from Germany and the story goes that he got on a Santa Fe train and just kept riding looking for a place he liked. That place happened to be Cameron and he opened the blacksmith business which he operated most of his life.

He married the former Carrie Meyers, who was the first white child to be born in Cameron, Mrs. Ruth Rossan noted.

The couple was inseparable and they always traveled in their survey together. The highlight of their lives was the birth of their daughter.

"When the child died, Mrs. Yoe began entertaining all the children of the neighborhood, always having a large group in her home," Mrs. Rossan added.

In the 44 years, the Yoe's love of children has been returned by the many thousands who have traveled through the gates of Yoe High and observed the traditional Yoe Day.

Mexican Baptist Church Observes 40th Anniversary

The Primera Iglesia Bautista, Mexican Baptist Church, celebrates its 40th anniversary this week.

Special services were held Wednesday at 8 p.m. with the Rev. Armando Virgen, pastor at Primera Iglesia Bautista in Waco, giving the main address.

With the coming of the 40th anniversary, the church members have moved to go into a new building program to handle the growing needs of the church, according to Pastor R. R. Martinez.

Assoc. For Blind To Open Headquarters

AUSTIN

Travis Association for the Blind, a 26-county "good eye" for men and women who live in a dark world, will open its new headquarters in Austin May 22-23.

State Senator Charles F. Herring of Austin, a member of the association board of directors, will cut the traditional ribbon at the front door Saturday, May 22. A public open house will be held Sunday, May 23, from 2 until 5 p.m.

Forty seven persons from Milam County have been helped by the association. Some 65 blind, partially blind or blind-deaf workers today earn their living in the association's big workrooms built to bowling alley scale. These men and women with highly developed hand skills cut and tab belts for the U.S. Air Force, cane chairs, slice and fit maps to mop handles, manufacture rubber mats and even sort the almost endless array of nuts and bolts from stripped-down jet bombers and tankers.

All the association work is performed under government contracts allocated by the National Industries for the Blind, except for items sold to private industries and individuals.

During the past year, the handicapped workers produced 35,512 shoes, 676 mats, 64,116 handles and capped 491 chairs.

The new church will be built along side the present structure located at the corner of Burleson and Tyson streets in Cameron. The present building will continue to be used to carry on the church's programs.

Rev. Martinez said the first converts to the Baptist faith were won by the Rev. M. L. Pardo in a county-wide missionary effort.

"In 1914 the First Baptist Church of this city, under the leadership of their pastor, the Rev. J. W. Milton, extended to the missionary Pardo and the new converts the privilege of membership in the church," Rev. Martinez noted. A Sunday School was provided for the Latin-American people by the members of the First Church on Sunday afternoons. Preaching services were held in the homes.

By 1919 the congregation had grown to the point where homes were not adequate. "The First Baptist Church gave the Latin-Americans the use of a small frame building in the church's campus. The work continued to expand and in 1925 it was necessary to have a place that was larger and in their own part of town," the Reverend continued.

S. S. Thompson presented them with land and friends raised the money to give the first payment on the new building.

On May 17, 1925, the First Mexican Baptist Church was organized with 20 charter members.

Pastors who have served the church since it was organized are: F. A. Hernandez, Isaias Armendariz Best, Carlos Hernandez Rios, Joel Garcia, Van Earl Hughes, Isidro Garcia, Armando Virgoa, Carmelo Rivera, Jose Angel Acosta and Rev. Martinez.

The church carries on a full-time program. The work is sponsored by the Milam County Baptist Association, the Baptist General Convention of Texas and the local congregation.

N. Milam Water System To Serve 127 Farm Homes

Some 127 farm and rural families of the North Milam community soon will be served by a modern water system because of a $175,000 soil and water association loan made by the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture's Farmers Home Administration.

At present, water for domestic and livestock use is secured from shallow wells, cisterns and ground surface tanks. All present sources are totally inadequate and are subject to contamination.

The proposed system will consist of a drilled well equipped with a pump, two water plants, lines, valves and meters necessary to produce and distribute an adequate and safe supply of water.

Rural water system loans have a direct immediate impact on a community's overall development and will increase the standard of living. The loan is to be repaid over a 40 year period, and the proposed system will have a 60,000 gallon capacity storage tank and 136,300 feet in pipe line.

In addition to serving the residents in the area the system will also serve 5 churches, 1 school and 7 businesses.

Association loans are available to organizations operating on a non-profit basis such as water district and non-profit corporations. Small rural towns and rural areas also are eligible.

MRS. GRIFFIN BARRETT

Ceremony Unites Matula - Barrett

Miss Pat Matula, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Matula Sr., became the bride of Griffin Barrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Smith Barrett, in a double ring ceremony at St. Monica's Catholic Church.

The Rev. Paul McCallum officiated and wedding music was provided by Mrs. Frank Hanel, organist.

Forming the background for the wedding party were four seven branched candelabra entwined with jade foliage and ribbons. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of chantilly lace over satin. The bodice was fashioned with a sabrina neckline enhanced with sequins and seed pearls and long tapered sleeves that came to points over the hands. The bouffant skirt was designed with three tiers of ruffles on the bottom flowing toward the back to form the chapel train. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Her elbow length veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of pearls and crystals. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. Littleton Barrett was matron of honor.

Miss Lynne McLaughlin of Houston, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Mrs. Thomas Raymond was bridesmaid.

The attendants wore street length dresses of white silk peau de soie with empire bodice and full skirts. Their headpieces were white double bows with short white veils. They carried long stemmed red roses.

Cynthia Thompson, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a white embroidered organza dress. Her head piece was white flowers with a short veil. She carried a white basket of red petals.

John Richter of Houston, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

Littleton Barrett served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were L. J. Matula, brother of the bride, and David Barrett, brother of the groom. Candle lighters were Tommy Sanders and Herbert Thweatt. Ushers were Brian McLaughlin Jr. of Houston and James Fontaine of Austin, and Donald Rivers and Bernay Dusk of Cameron.

The reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richter Jr., aunt and uncle of the bride. The bride's table covered with white linen and overlaid with white net, was centered with the bridal bouquet and on either end was the crystal punch service and three tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Joe Zarosky served the cake and Mrs. John David Thompson served the punch.

Mrs. Richard Wyatt registered the guests. Members of the house party were Mrs. James Fontaine, Mrs. Charles Matula Jr., Mrs. Benny Massengale, Mrs. John Pernice, Mrs. Bill Richter, Mrs. Frank Thompson.

For a wedding trip to the Gulf Coast, the bride chose a pink chiffon dress and matching straw hat. White accessories and red rose corsage completed the ensemble.

The bride is a graduate of Yoe High School, a Western Union operator and an employee of White's Auto Store. The bridegroom is a graduate of Yoe High School and Austin Barber College of Austin. He is in partnership in a barber shop in Cameron.

MURRAY GO ROUND

By Tom Murray
CALL OUT 'HE ARMY':

One prominent major league baseball chout may recall life most embarrassing moments at the San Francisco Giants try out the Astrodome grass' new green hair-spray Friday evening.

During the Korean War, better known as Harry's Police Action, the scout flew into Birmingham. He was there to watch Baron players his club might purchase. Time on his hands, waiting for a night game, Our Hero decided to nose around and, who knows, find another Ty Cobb under a rock somewhere.

He hit a barber shop for directions to the nearest afternoon baseball game. "There's always a baseball game in Alabama when it's hot," he explained.

Soon he wound up in a broken-down, musty little country park a few miles from the city. He was the only white man at a game between Negro amateur teams.

He leaned back lazily, but not for long.

All of a sudden, his eyes landed on a magnificently constructed young man warming up at short-stop, wearing naught but a pair of shorts. The kid moved like a cat, scooping up batted balls and rifling throws to first base. Soon the 'shortstop' moved to the outfield to shag flies. He raced around like a wild deer, gracefully fielding balls hit all over the lot. Each time his throws would rocket all the way home. Our sleuth was sitting on the edge of his seat.

"If he can only hit! If he can only hit!" the famous visitor began saying to himself. A dream of signing a genuine Phenomenon was crowding his cranium. Presently the scantily clad kid moved in to take his turn at batting the grass stained practice ball.

Heart pumping, eyes bulging, Anon's muscles tightened as in a poised tiger. The Kid slashed a screaming drive into trees behind a ramshackle corrugated fence 400 feet from home plate. "Come on, Kid," the excited man mumbled, "do it again."

It was the most gorgeous swing the fellow had ever seen. The Kid rocked drive after drive through the infield and over that fence. Fielders were ducking and dodging.

The big-time scout could stand no more.

To his feet he leaped. Only two steps were touched as he bounded out of the stadium, around the short fence. In a second he was face-to-face with The Kid.

Sticking out a shaking hand, he said, "My name is..."

A grin broke across The Kid's face, as he said softly, "And, my name is Willie Mays."

Willie, home on leave from Harry's Police Force, was enjoying a little of the game he loves, and missed. It was the one summer he could not play for the Giants.

It is not too incongruous to find that imbedded wooden splinters had given Green Bay Guard Jerry Kramer a 14-year old bellyache. After all, the Giant baseball team announced it found the cause of Willie McCovey's 1964 batting slump. His shoes were too tight...

SHORTIES:

Strangies: Texas Aggies, who worship the rugged life, hired a boy football coach with "Bebe" as a nickname. UT football teams are called 'Teasips' by their Farm relations but represent a student body which consumes infinitely more hard liquor than tea. Rice University has a reputation as an Ivy League island in a sea of scholastic ineptitude. Yet a graduated lineman, on one of its celebrated football teams, is a shift-working operator in a channel industry.

HARD OF HEARING LOSSES ARE DIFFERENT

Each hearing loss is different and each case must be fitted different. In the past few years research has proven this over and over — for example:

1. Some people can understand talking to one person, but in a crowd everything seems to run together.

2. Some hear men's voices but can not understand women or children.

3. Some hear good in small groups, but in church or group meetings they miss part or all that is said.

4. Some have heard noises that stay with them day and night. We could go on and on, but it's obvious from the above that it is impossible to fit the many different types of hearing loss with just a hearing aid. Neither could you take one set of glasses and fit everyone's eye loss.

To fit the hard of hearing as they should be fitted, a complete test must be run to find the type of hearing loss they suffer from. Then using the Evaluator we are able to know what to build in your Instrument to correct your hearing loss. With the Evaluator you will know exactly how you are going to hear before we send your prescription to the Lab to be built. In most cases the cost is less than you would pay for a hearing aid, so why take a chance.

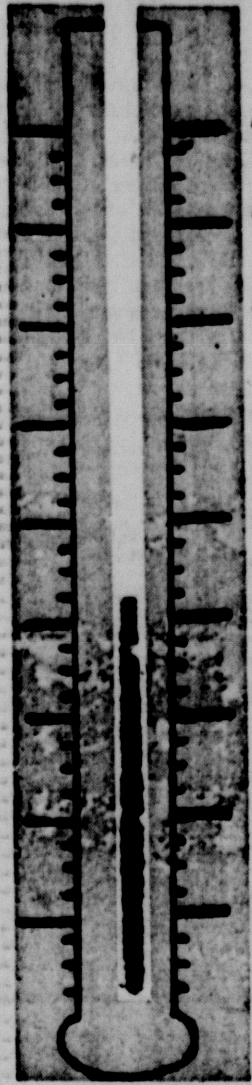

If you have a hearing problem of any kind you owe to yourself to come in for a test. (The tests are free.) Remember — It's better to light a candle than to cuss the darkness.

Mr. Treadway will hold his regular Hearing Clinic at the Right Hotel in Cameron Tuesday, May 25 from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Our Temple office is open each day to serve you, altho Mr. Treadway is there only on Thursday and Fridays. We do repair service and have supplies for all makes of hearing aids.

Approximately four more pounds of meat per person will be consumed in the United States this year than last.

This will bring the per capita consumption of red meat to 173 pounds - a record high, says Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Texas A&M Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Virtually all of the nationwide increase will be in beef and veal, which have been in especially good supply and at reasonable prices U. S. Dept. of Agriculture researchers have indicated. The availability of supply is expected to continue throughout 1965.

Homemakers who are looking for tasty, economical ways of using beef will do well to consider the round, says Mrs. Clyatt. Round steaks have gone modern and have taken on a new look.

Many markets offer for sale, in addition to whole round steaks, portions of the round. There are some advantages to these cuts. Some of the misunderstanding or abuse in preparation may be eliminated, since the shopper can now purchase that part of the round for a specific use.

The whole round steak is full of flavor. However, it is not tender enough to broil, and should be cooked in a covered skillet at low heat.

The top muscle in the cut of round is the most tender. It can be broiled, braised, chicken fried or roasted. The bottom round, an outside cut, usually has a lower price tag than the top round. The bottom round makes pot roasts when cut in thick slices and may be carved across the grain. There are two other muscles in a cut of round steak. A visit to the meat counter will reveal the method of cutting round used by the store where you trade.

Do you know the difference?

Dylox does!

Dylox is the selective insecticide. It selects its victims, the lygus bugs and fleahoppers that raise havoc when cotton begins to fruit and square. Unlike non-selective insecticides, Dylox does not appreciably reduce beneficial insect populations. Predators and parasites such as lady beetles, lacewings, egg parasites and big-eyed bugs continue to carry on their beneficial work in your fields. Therefore, cotton grows and fruits with the additional protection of beneficial insects, resulting in less frequent sprayings.

Can you identify the insect silhouettes? Dylox knows. See your dealer for a supply.

'They' Take Their Choice . . .

Last year "they" went out the roof. This year "they" cracked a hole in the wall and climbed down the wall. "They" is almost immaterial when someone decides to break out of Milam Jail. If this is not proof our red-brick jail, now at least 75 years old, should be relegated to museum status, who could require further evidence? It could be fixed up, but the cost would probably exceed the service the historic structure could serve.

Beyond that, the idea of having people burst out of there who want out that badly is certainly not in the interest of public safety. Who knows what measures such an escapee might take to make good his escape from town? There is no assurance "they" would disappear down the railroad tracks or "borrow" a car for a get away every time. It seems reasonable to find a better means to confine people who know the limitations of such confinement.

Three Percent For Beauty . . .

When is 3 percent a great deal? We think it is when that percentage of the American people say that they consider the problem of beautifying America the most important one facing the country. It is true, of course, that, as revealed by a recent Gallup Poll, far higher percentages chose other topics. Forty-five percent chose improving public education, 41 percent reducing crime, and so forth. And we agree with them; we feel that such gigantic issues come first. Yet there is something encouraging in learning that 3 percent of those questioned put beauty first. For in a matter like beautification, even a small group can do a great deal, particularly if they are single-minded, civic-minded women. Many of us are for public beauty, but we just do not seem to get around to doing anything about it. Thus we are all ready to be led by this militant 3 percent. On May 24 and 25 Washington will see the White House Conference on Natural Beauty. It is our guess that after the effects of this conference seep down to local levels, there will be many recruits for the 3 percent band. —Christian Science Monitor

Post Office To Aid Livestock Survey

Postmaster Nerville Caperton recommended rural patrons of the Cameron Post Office to be on the lookout for June Livestock Survey cards. Next week, mail carriers will leave survey cards in a sample of boxes along their routes. "USDA bases livestock and poultry estimates on replies to this survey," Mr. Caperton explained. "It is important for everyone who gets a card to fill it out and return it to the carrier. This way, USDA gets a representative sample of the area's livestock and poultry holdings. Carriers assisting with the survey are Mr. Charles Nabours, Rt. 1, Mr. Alvin Mullinax, Rt. 2, Mr. Erle Burke, Route 4.

Survey cards will be forwarded to Cary D. Palmer, State Agricultural Statistician, in Austin. After adding and analyzing these cards, USDA statisticians are able to estimate the State's milk production, calf and pig crops, lamb and wool crops, and the number of hens and pullets.

Need For New Tax Bill Debated

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — Uppermost question in the minds of taxpayers and legislators is: will there be a new tax bill? Answer rests with the lawmakers. And their decision depends on whether or not a teacher pay raise bill is passed. About $73,500,000 in new state revenue would be needed to cover the cost of Texas State Teachers Association's $45-in-'65 program. Alternate proposal offered by Gov. John Connally to reward experienced teachers at an accelerated rate would cost the state an estimated $64,700,000. Both plans are based on cost estimates for the next two years and would, of course, call for additional local money. Hundreds of teachers jammed into the legislative chambers for hearings on the teacher-pay-raise bills, putting all the pressure possible on the legislators. TSTA stresses that many local districts cannot afford to pay a higher share of the salaries called for in the governor's plan and that this is a state responsibility anyway. Gov. Connally says, "Texas will continue to lag far behind the national average in school teacher salaries until local support shows the same increase expected of the state government." He contends TSTA is not telling the whole story. "They never admit that state support of our public schools is $56 a pupil above the national average, while local support is $93 below the national average." While compromise efforts flourished, a sub-committee of the House Revenue and Taxation Committee methodically and quietly reviewed some ideas for producing more income. Considered was an additional tax of three cents a pack on cigarettes. This would raise about $69,600,000. Other suggestions reviewed by the five-member group include: — A two per cent sales tax on beer and liquor, $22,000,000; — Restoral of the 50 cents per $1,000 corporation franchise surtax, $24,000,000; — A one-shot inheritance tax payment date adjustment, $6,000,000. Senators want the House to pass a tax bill before any agreement is reached on a teacher pay raise. A House tax committee member, active in the sub-panel deliberations, says pay raises should be determined before tax drafters decide how big a bill to write. With the legislative session rapidly drawing to a close, and many differences still unresolved, a teacher pay raise is by no means a certainty. A breakdown in negotiations could mean no tax bill at all during the regular session. RECORD BUDGET — Both houses passed the $3,700,000,000 conference committee amendments bill, which calls for expenditures of $154,000,000 over the current level. Education got the biggest share of increases in the biennial budget. These increases included $80,500,000 for the 22 state colleges and universities; $10,400,000 for public junior colleges; $89,700,000 for public schools; and $18,600,000 for vocational and technical education. Salaries of the state employees, in the classified service, will be increased 3.4 per cent each year and welfare spending will go up $16,000,000. Judges from the district court to the Supreme Court levels will get substantial raises in their annual salaries. Soil Conservation Board was given an $89,155 increase for its operations, including $28,000 more for watershed planning. An additional $3,800,000 was set aside for the Water Development Board which is being reorganized. Dept. of Agriculture will get a $1,400,000 increase. Animal Health Commission gets $1,800,000 less than the current spending level since the federal government is taking over responsibility for screwworm control. COUNTY STUDY PROPOSED Rep. Alonzo Jamison of Lenton has introduced legislation which would authorize a thorough study of county governments, with a special eye to eliminating county offices which may have outlived their usefulness. Jamison told the House State Affairs Committee, which took his bill under study, that he thinks offices such as county treasurer, justice of the peace and constable should be studied as to their necessity and effectiveness. Study also would seek ways of freeing county officials from what Jamison believes are overly restrictive statutes. NO MORE ROAD GANGS — Rep. Vernon Beckham of Delton got easy approval in the House of a bill to repeal a series of 1876 laws, including one which still re-

Public Program On Planning For Successful Retirement Set Tuesday

A special program at 2 p.m. May 25 at the Baptist Educational Building in Cameron, is being planned by the Sub-committee on Aging on planning for retirement and making retirement years a success. The program is being coordinated by Miss Anna Marie Ramke, Home Demonstration agent. The program will begin with individual exhibits and demonstrations being planned on creative activities for men and women on a limited budget. These activities are being planned not as mere busy work, but even money making projects for all citizens. At 2:30 p.m. a style show will be held for maturing figures; models will represent five local retail stores and will vary in age from 35 to 90 years of age. Mr. H. G. Kenagy, retired insurance executive and A&M University professor, will give a 20 minute program on planning for retirement. Mr. Kenagy is a member of the steering committee on Aging in the state and has held workshops on retirement planning throughout the state. A firm "No Time to be Lonely" will be shown concerning wise use of the senior years. Educational exhibits will be displayed on planning for and the successful use of retirement years. The New Salem HD Club has prepared an exhibit on planning for retirement and an exhibit will be built on successful planning for retirement through reading. Suggestion boxes have been placed by the Sub-committee on Aging and interested friends in all areas of the county in hopes of getting hints as to problems and needs of senior citizens in Milam County. The 20 outstanding senior citizens will be invited as honored guests along with all senior citizens from local communities. The program will not be designed for persons over 65 only but for all interested men and women planning retirement, according to Miss Ramke.

—OLD PHILOSOPHER—

Dear editor:

I understand some colleges specializing in agriculture around the country are now offering a new service to farmers. They've installed big computer machines and if a farmer will send in his records the machines will digest the information and in 30 seconds or so tell him what he's doing wrong.

This may be fine for bachelor farmers, but farmers with wives don't need a machine to tell them what they're doing wrong.

However what I started out to say this week before I got sidetracked - as you can see I operate on the same level as the statesmen do on foreign policy, you don't plan what you're going to do, you wait till something busts loose and then react the best you can - is that I have developed a plan for simplifying figures covering such things as the national budget, the national debt, etc. As everybody knows, the figures have become unmanageable and frightening. For example, when the President says the budget this year will be right at $100,000,000,000, spelled out, one hundred billion dollars, the amount is ungraspable. You can't get hold of it. It's too wide to go through your brain broadside, and if you let it in lengthwise part of it's out before the other's in.

quires all men 21 to 45 to spend five days a year on a road gang. Laws are not enforced, but still are on the books, and Beckham thought it a good idea to eliminate them. REDISTRICTING WOES — As if legislators did not have enough problems with teacher pay raises, the even thornier problem of redistricting is upon them. Senate is in-fighting over proposed plans for Senate redistricting, which necessarily will remove some of the present members. On the other hand, the Senators are not likely to agree with the House version of congressional redistricting.

Gov. Connally, meanwhile, hinted he may not call a special session if there is no agreement on redistricting, leaving the matter up to the federal courts. ag opinions — Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr holds that:

SOIL RESEARCH...

A Key to Improved Production of Crops and Livestock

Almost since its beginning in 1912, Texas Power & Light Company has participated in and supported a wide variety of research and development projects to improve the soil in the area it serves.

The Company's Agricultural Development Division works in close cooperation with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas Research Foundation at Renner and other agencies to aid farming and ranching people in realizing increased production and profits from the soil.

Since 1961, TP&L has participated in the Blackland Income Growth program to improve soil fertility and crop yields in 18 Blackland counties served by the Company. Since 1963, TP&L has assisted in promoting the Build East Texas program which is designed to improve pastures and livestock production.

These are but a few of the ways TP&L is helping the agricultural interests in its service area. It will continue to participate in such programs and in others aimed at improving the general economy of rural communities.

TAKE YOUR PROBLEMS TO CHURCH THIS WEEK

Millions Leave Them There!

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

Frightening, isn't it? You see a picture like this and suddenly you feel as if you are standing at the edge of a chasm in the dark. You are confronted with the threat of the unknown, and you don't like it.

Why, you wonder, does it have to be like this? Why can't men live together in peace?

We all need the courage to face the unknown future unafraid. We need to find and to develop love, understanding, and peace of mind. But to attain our goal, we need help. That help can be found in the Church, which gives us Faith.

On World Wide Communion Sunday—millions of men and women will unite in solemn observance of one of Christianity's holy sacraments. There will be new faces at thousands of altars, men and women who have only recently begun to realize where man's hope is to be found.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

CHILD ON THE STAND
Two cars collide at an intersection. Each driver blames the other for the accident. And the only impartial witness is a schoolboy who was standing on the curb.

Should the boy be allowed to tell his story in court? Thousands of dollars, and perhaps grave criminal penalties, may hinge on what he says. Is the testimony of a child reliable enough for the processes of justice?

Either way there are problems. To let him testify is to risk falsehood, deliberate or otherwise. Robert Louise Stevenson once wrote: "Whatever we are to expect at the hands of children, it should not be any piddling exactitude about matters of fact."

But if children may be more freely, they may also tell the truth more freely. Out of the mouths of babes come observations unsoftened by tact, untinted by prejudice.

As a rule, it is up to the trial judge to decide whether a particular child is qualified to be a witness. Of course, age is one factor. But age provides no hard and fast guide. The judge also must consider the child's intelligence, the time that has elapsed between accident and trial, and even the type of question to be asked. Thus, a tot of seven is better fitted to say whether a dog bit him than to estimate the speed of a passing truck.

Ethical as well as mental characteristics are taken into account. The child witness must feel a moral obligation to tell the truth.

Traditionally, the judge probes for this moral obligation in the child's religious background. Does he fear divine punishment if he doesn't tell the truth? For instance, one court allowed testimony by a youngster who, although hazy about the meaning of an oath, was sure that "the bad man" would get him if he told a lie.

In recent years some courts

Nola Knows

By Nola White

Dear Nola -- I've been going steady with Kevin (not his real name) for three months, but he dropped me when he found out I was a nice girl and started dating a girl who isn't too particular. I love him, but I think if he loved me he would have respected me for my stand. Don't you? -- Lucy

Dear Lucy -- Surely it didn't take him three months to find out you're a nice girl. Let's hope he dropped you for some other reason. If not, you haven't lost a thing. A boy who doesn't respect his date isn't worth the postage to send him home. Incidentally, the other girl may be more particular than you think. After all, she picked YOUR fellow!

having a hard time making friends at school. I was very popular at my old school. I'm a boy, 14.

Outlander -- I think you should have signed this "Impatient." Start right now to pulling your share of the load in the drama club, or the band, or some other school group. In no time at all, you'll be in, Friend!

Personal to Buckholts Babe -- The Army can make him an officer, but Heaven alone can make him a gentleman.

Personal to Bud -- There's no way to get around the fact that a rambling rose is still a clinging vine.

Dear Nola -- Are second marriages happier than the first? Doubtful

Dear Doubtful -- How happy was the first? Some marriages are so bad anything would be better. I'm going to stick my neck way out. If your first marriage was not happy, a second would probably be happier. You're bound to have learned something!

Dear Nola -- Recently we moved here from Brownfield, and I'm

Outdoors In Texas

By Vern Sanford
One of the fastest growing and most unusual outdoor pastimes in Texas today is Indian artifact hunting. It's better known simple as arrowhead hunting.

Since Indian tribes roamed all over by meticulous searchers. But there are many likely places to search for relics.

Most of the choice places near populous areas have been picked over by meticulous searchers. But each eroding rain or a farmer's plough turns up new tidbits.

Best known artifact is the articulate flint arrowhead. But a search may turn up other historic relics like spear points, tomahawk heads or flint knives.

There are two distinct types of Indian relic seekers ... the surface hunter and the digger. The former is the most basic. His is a pastime anyone can indulge in, whether he's a dyed-in-the-wool archeological bug or not. The latter is more painstaking and requires advance knowledge and know-how.

Surface hunting won't turn up as many artifacts as digging. However, its great appeal is that no equipment is needed. Just patience and tenacity. Too, it's a recreational pastime for the entire family.

Only requisite for surface hunting is knowing where to look. Most logical places are where the ground has been broken or eroded. That brings the relics to the surface. A ploughed field, for example, would be more apt to have artifacts scattered about than would a sodded turf.

Cultivated fields probably are the most accessible spots common to all parts of Texas. Other possibilities are stream beds, bulldozed road right-of-ways, eroded hillsides, broken places in the land, gullies and washes.

A surface hunter can ascertain whether or not a spot is likely hunting ground almost immediately. There will be some evidence of Indian life, even if it is only tiny broken chips of flint, a tell-tale clue that it has been worked.

Surface hunting is the sport in its most basic form. When a hunter begins exploring beneath the earth it gets somewhat more complicated.

Dr. E. Mott Davis, an archeologist at the University of Texas, does most of his exploring underground, salvaging the artifacts by excavating a particular site. Many of the hobby archeologists also have started to dig and search, and this causes Dr. Davis and other professionals much dismay.

"Many times a person just digs aimlessly, looking for the more choice artifacts," Dr. Davis explained. "In the process he destroys much valuable property which is vitally needed in our work, information that can not be obtained in any other way."

But Dr. Davis doesn't try to discourage the hobbyist who digs in his quest for coveted relics. Rather, he stresses that the person should know what he is doing and understand what he is looking for. Serious hobbyists, he points out, contribute a valuable role in cataloging the archeological history of any specific area.

He encourages the amateur artifact hunter to keep a written record of his discoveries. In this way he actually is conducting an archeological survey, one that the professionals can put to good use when seeking additional information.

There has been such a phenomenal upsurge in Indian relic hunting during the past few years that organizations of persons interested in the pastime have been formed. There are many in different towns across Texas, as well as a statewide group.

Hunting Indian artifacts can be a family pastime both educational and entertaining. By systematically working a site, taking specimens in logical order and keeping accurate records, the hobby collector can build a visual picture of how the Indians lived and something about their habits and personality.

And as Dr. Davis explained, he also can contribute a vital part of the state's archeological study.

Price Outlook Good For Texas Pork Prices

COLLEGE STATION
Texas pork producers can look forward to good hog prices for the remaining months of 1965. That is the forecast of Extension economist John G. McHaney, and he cites several factors to back up the optimistic outlook.

The number of hogs on the nation's farms on Jan. 1, 1965, was down by 9 percent from a year earlier. The drop in Texas was 24 percent, and the largest for any state in the nation, said the Texas A&M University economist. He noted that hog numbers were down in each of the regions but was smallest in the Corn Belt, 8 percent. Numbers were down 10 percent in the North Atlantic and South Atlantic regions, 12 percent in the West and 13 percent in the South Central, which includes Texas. On Jan. 1, 79 percent of the nation's hogs were in the Corn Belt region, he said.

Another important factor in the first quarter price increase cited by McHaney was the decline in the number of commercially slaughtered hogs. Commercial pork production also showed a decline due to lighter live and dressed weights of the hogs slaughtered. McHaney pointed out that the main source of slaughter hogs during the first half of 1965 comes from the June-November 1964 pig crop and that it was 8 percent below the 1963 crop for the same period.

If producers follow their intentions, reported in the Dec. 1, 1964 Pig Crop Survey, the 1965 spring pig crop could be down 7 percent from a year earlier.

Jerome, Arizona, is the newest "ghost town" in America since its last mine closed in 1953.

Earliest known bill of fare was used by Duke Henry of Brunswick at a banquet in 1553.
